

When putting together a resume, bear in mind that it is most likely that the person reviewing it will be looking at many other resumes at the same time. The resume should be laid out in a simple, easy-to-read format and be limited to one page. Unlike most business resumes, acting credits should be listed according to significance, not date. It is not necessary to include descriptions of projects or characters or dates of performances. For security reasons, do NOT include a social security number.
